

Credit Suisse would like to express its heartfelt appreciation to Gregory Burns for his contribution to Journeys, a Credit Suisse community initiative for 2004. Greg's passion to help develop artistic talent in the young and his drive to challenge the perceived limitations of being disabled, have not only served to inspire the children involved in the program, but also the Journeys team and the staff of Credit Suisse as well. I am grateful to Greg for sharing his unceasing spirit to live life to the best of his ability with all who have participated in Journeys. It has indeed been a wonderful and memorable experience for everyone involved!
